

Revision Guide Year 10

GERMAN

During exam week, you will sit a GCSE-style Reading Comprehension paper; you will have done a similar Listening Comprehension paper in the week before half-term.. These papers will test your general comprehension skills in the language. The best preparation is to look again at the similar practice papers which you did recently and to revise as much vocabulary as possible from this year's work, using the text book and Kerboodle.

In the weeks following the exams but before the end of term, your teacher will set a Written controlled assessment task and a Speaking controlled assessment task which you will prepare during lesson time and then complete under controlled conditions. More information on how to do well in these tasks will be given after exam week.
